

A Note from the Owner of 38210 Schooner Way

This house is so private we don't need curtains on the windows. We have lots of windows and no one can see into our windows because the house sits higher than the neighbours.

It is so peaceful to read a book on the front deck or eat lunch there watching the birds at the feeder, listening to birdsong, glancing up to see sailboats on the ocean. The large deck is a perfect place for visits with friends and neighbours. Because our front deck is south-facing, we enjoy sitting outdoors starting in April right through into October. Even in rainy weather I can sit back on the sofa and see the water and watch the birds from indoors.

Often deer come to munch our grass.

We see tall trees from our windows and yet do not feel hemmed in because our whole front yard is wide open.

Neighbours on all sides are very quiet.
